The Assessor questionnaire produces detailed, straightforward jargon-free, guidance, competency and personality reports from a single product. It is valid for all levels of seniority and both the questionnaire and the reports are available in English and French.

Number of Questions	190	Typical completion time	20 to 25 minutes

Qualification requirement	Careers Advice	None

	Psychometric	Gold or B.P.S. Level B (Intermediate, Intermediate+ or Full)

Assessor offers 130 competencies, which may also be called 'criteria', 'traits', or 'qualities'. Competencies help to distinguish superior from average performers and provide a way to characterise the requirements of any particular job activity at any particular level in the organisation.

This guide gives details of all 130 of these competencies showing their title and definition. Whilst the title is a convenient means of referring to a competency it should be remembered that it is the definition which describes the competency that is being measured.

World of Work Competency Groupings

The competencies are listed in this guide in alphabetical sequence but there is also an occupationally orientated 'World of Work' competency framework based on the following 8 groupings.

Applied/Practical	These competencies describe aspects of the loyal corporate contributor, who works effectively and comfortably within the framework provided by the employing organisation.
Original	These competencies describe those who are open to change and innovation, and who can adapt to revised circumstances with ease and confidence.
Social/Communications	These competencies describe a range of approaches to work relations and communications.
Managing/Leading	These competencies describe a range of aspects of a person's likely leadership and management approach.
Analytic	These competencies describe a range of behaviours associated with analytical and some numerate activities.
Decisive	These competencies describe likely capabilities and values associated with decision-making and implementation.
Commercial	These competencies are descriptive of an awareness of business processes and the profit motive in particular.
Drive/Ambition	These competencies describe a range of aspects of the person's likely personal and corporate motivations.

This is presented on the next page. You will need to refer to the alphabetic listing to see the definitions.

We believe that this competency framework provides a robust coverage of the work domain using these groups. This makes it far easier to select the competencies which are relevant for specific job roles, especially for those who are less familiar with competencies or in the absence of a job role description.
